AMORY ATTACKS LACOMBE

SAYS THE JUDGE PROTECTS TRACT.ON CRIMINALS.

Opposing Third Avenue Reorganization, Tells P. S. Commissioners That the Judge Permits Orders to Be Disobeyed Lacombe Refuses to Reply.

The Public Service Commission, which has been listening for several months to the arguments of representatives of the bondholders of the Third Avenue Railroad system in favor of the reorganization of the road, gave a hearing yesterday to those who object to the plan. One of those who opposed the plan was Col. William N. Amory, who at one time was secretary of the Third Avenue company, and who since it went into the hands of a receivership has charged persistently that the company was wrecked.

Col. Amory repeated these accusations yesterday. He said that there had been a systematic juggling of the accounts of the company which turned expenses emmittee appointed to probe the Gore for operation into assets by transferring such expenses to construction accounts He added:

"Who can doubt that milijons were taken in loot and charged to cost of road 2,000,000 pesos, or $750,000, on the people of their labors. When the resolution of and equipment, and that other millions western Nicaragua.
